

CONSPIRACY TO RUIN HER.

THE CHARGE THAT MRS. VAUGHAN MAKES AGAINST HER HUSBAND.

First, She Says, a Woman was Employed to Tempt Her, and When that Plan Failed a Man was Employed to Compromise Her. Charles P. Vaughan is suing Annie Lillian Vaughan in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn for an absolute divorce and names W. F. Kennedy as the co-respondent. Mrs. Vaughan denies all her husband's allegations, and yesterday, when her application for alimony and counsel fees came up before Judge Pratt some oaths were made tending to show that she was the victim of a conspiracy. At the time of their marriage, at Peabody, Mass., in November, 1887, the bride was 18, her fifteenth year, and the bridegroom 24 years old. Mr. Vaughan was a travelling salesman, and, as he was almost entirely away from home, it was arranged that his wife should continue to live with her parents. Mrs. Vaughan alleges that a few months after marriage a woman, who called herself Mrs. Nella Stevens, came to board at her house, and tried to induce her to go to Boston and other places to meet young men, telling her that her husband would never know anything about it. Mrs. Vaughan says she reluctantly declined all such proposals, and that Mrs. Stevens left at the end of three months, after telling her that she had been employed as a detective by her husband to get evidence on which to base an action for divorce.

In April, 1888, when she was a bride, came to her a woman, who said she was a detective, and taking her trunk and other belongings, went off. She then went to a convent in Canada, where she remained a year, during which time she sent to her husband $1,000. Afterward she had left the convent and returned home, her husband called on her, confessed that he had been very unfaithful, and is one of the country's leading botanists. He is about 40 years old, and very popular among the students of Indiana University.

LIFE SECRETS.
Don't worry. Too swift arrives as tardy as too slow.
Simplify! simplify! simplify!
Don't overact. Don't act. Let your imagination know to all men.
Cook the fresh air day and night. "Oh, if you knew what was in the air."

Sleep and rest abundantly. Sleep is Nature's benediction.

Spend less nervous energy each day than you make.
Be cheerful. A light heart lives long.
Think only healthful thoughts. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he."
Avoid passion and excitement. A moment's anger may be fatal.
Associate with healthy people. Health is contagious as well as disease.
Don't carry the whole world on your shoulders, far less the universe. Trust the eternal." Watch the first signs of a coming cold. Nine-tenths of all diseases start with a cold.
If at times you feel pain in your head seems to have or aches, take at once the best and surest stimulant you can secure. There are many, but there is one that is strictly reliable and possesses the best qualities, and that is Duff's Pure Malt Whisky.

It is a well-known fact that friends by reason of what it has done for people that any other preparation of the present day. Do not be a drunkard or greater fool, who will drink this whisky, and it will cure the nurse and best, which will aid you to solve "Life's Secrets." —Adv.

Invited to Chicago University.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 27.—John M. Coulter, President of Indiana University, has had an offer of the chair of botany in the new Chicago University at an annual salary of $1,500. He is a graduate of the Indiana Society of America, and is one of the country's leading botanists. He is about 40 years old, and very popular among the students of Indiana University.

The next day she got a telegram from her husband, who had gone to her parents' home in Lynn, Mass., George Vaughan, her husband's brother, introduced her to a man named Kennedy, who had been away from her to Boston, and who had come to get her, but her brother-in-law arranged that she and Kennedy should go by the boat. They then became reconciled, and were to live at Binghamton. In August, 1889, when she was off on a business trip, she received a telegram from him asking her to return to New York. She immediately came to New York and met him. On the day following her arrival her husband told her that he had been employing a detective to find out who had tried to make amends for his misconduct if she would take him back. They then became reconciled, and were to live at Binghamton.

For every one who has blood trouble, no matter in what shape or how long standing, provided none of the vital organs have been so far impaired as to render a cure impossible. S. S. S. recommends the following: Take a warm bath, by expelling the poison from the body, and at the same time it is a tonic to the whole system. However, had your case may be, there is hope.

FOR YOU.

Curried me of a most malignant type of chronic blood trouble, for which I had used various other remedies. My weight increased, and my health improved very rapidly. I consider S. S. S. the best tonic I ever used.
